Parent and Carer Webinar Series

Parent and Carer Webinar Series

Parents, carers and the young people they support are welcome to join the team to hear from university staff, debunk the myths associated with higher education, and have their questions answered.

Queen Mary is pleased to have launched a series of webinars designed to support parents and carers to understand the journey to higher education. As key influences, parents and carers can offer invaluable support in the lead up, and transition to, higher education. At Queen Mary, we want to make the process as clear as possible.
