Reading

- Read this article: The 1960s: the decade that shook Britain: <https://www.historic-uk.com/CultureUK/The-1960s-The-Decade-that-Shook-Britain/>

Listening

- Catch up with some episodes of the Media Show podcast (BBC Radio 4) – Seriously, have not subscribed yet?
<https://www.bbc.co.uk/programmes/b00dv9hq/episodes/downloads>

Note-Taking

- Note SIX take-aways / key points from the BBC documentary.
- Mindmap key ideas from the article.
- Create 'Big Threads' (or 'brain dumps'), as shown in the last lesson of the year, to revise the course content synoptically - for example:
 - Evolution of representation of women in set texts – historical, social & cultural, economic & political contexts
 - Representation of ethnicity in set texts – historical, social & cultural, economic & political contexts
 - The need for regulation and regulation issues & debates – social & cultural, economic & political contexts
 - Power and ownership in media industries – historical, social & cultural, economic & political contexts
 - Or any of the Key Statements from the specs

Practice questions

Complete some of the following questions. Please complete on paper and hand in on your return. You could plan some in detail, and write out full answers for other questions.

Component 1

Media Language questions:

Newspapers

For the 'Unseen', simply buy a copy of the relevant newspaper on the day or find the front pages online at: https://www.bbc.co.uk/news/blogs/the_papers

Products	Question
Times + Guardian (both unseen)	How is media language used to encourage audience interpretations? [15]
Mirror + Telegraph (both unseen)	How does media language incorporate viewpoints and ideologies in these newspaper front pages? [15]

Film Posters

Products	Question
Tomb Raider teaser poster https://www.fbtb.net/video-games/2018/01/09/tomb-raider-post/attachment/tomb-raider-poster-fixed/	How does the media language used in this poster promote a particular genre? [15]
2 unseen posters (it could happen that you get 2 rather than 1) Hidden Figures + Jungle Fever (see below)	How does media language communicate multiple meanings in these two film posters? [15]

Genius has no race. Strength has no gender.
Courage has no limit.
